Hi Will,

I also just shared the final write up which is unique to yourself and your goals in life (similar to what we did at the end of TE1) on our Passports team page for the class, and also, I think last time I shared that on the discussion forum (can't remember - will see if others are doing that). Then I will write my thank you note to the professor and mentors and teaching assistants, and that's it for me except to look at our OEP evaluations on Monday the 25th. Let me know if you want to talk any further about Passports and TE2 and also, if you wanted to speak tomorrow about any bizz updates, and if not, I will check in with you in the middle of next week as usual.

Thanks,
Karen

Hi Will,

I completed all the videos and evaluations for TE2 and I'm about to submit my thank you note, which I do for every online class that I complete. I think the only thing left is to receive the evaluations for the OEP submission which will be available this upcoming Monday, the 25th, since the evaluations are due on Sun. night. Let me know if you want to discuss anything to close out what we did for the class projects. The evaluations I just viewed from the marketing page and sales experiments and the analysis were mixed, some good, some not good in terms of the comments, but all of them gave us a good grade for both sets of evaluations. I plan to look at the OEP evaluations on Monday the 25th, so let me know if you want to discuss the class any further as it ends.

Also, I thought you said that you wanted to chat about the bizz venture again tomorrow (Fri.)? I was not sure on that but thought you had mentioned it yesterday. If you have an update and want to chat again this week, let me know what time tomorrow you want to talk. Otherwise, I will check in with you in the middle of next week, as I have been in recent weeks.

Thanks for your help yesterday in better understanding start up finances and in particular how bizz's will work once it gets started.

Karen
